MEMORANDUM FOR: Deputy Director for Administration

FROM: Robert W. Magee
Director of PersonnelSUBJECT: Invitation to Address the 1985
Graduate Studies Program

1. We would be pleased to have you address the 1985 CIA Graduate Studies Program participants on 2 July 1985 from 10:15 a.m. to 11:00 a.m. in the Headquarters Auditorium. In the past, speakers have talked about the Agency of today as well as tomorrow in relation to their specific office.

2. The Graduate Studies Program began in 1966 with initial focus on the Chinese area and language studies. It has gradually been expanded to include other academic disciplines such as economics, international affairs, geography, law, engineering and other sciences. The program provides students the opportunity to do substantive work in their fields of academic concentrations. The majority of those selected have completed one or more years of graduate study, or will be attending graduate school in the fall. During their summer employment, the students have weekly briefing sessions with senior officials who acquaint them in detail with the work of the Agency. Since the graduate students have special clearances, briefing officials are candid in describing the activities, duties and responsibilities of their components. This same frankness prevails in their response to questions from the students following each presentation. Overall reaction to the briefings and assignments has been very favorable.

3. Competition for Graduate Studies Program positions increases each year. This year over 1500 inquiries were received for the approximately positions available. Over the years the intern program has proven mutually beneficial from both a short and long range point of view. Interns have an opportunity to participate in the substantive work of the Agency and to become acquainted with professional foreign intelligence analysts.

4. The results of student research projects are most often of high quality. Many are published and disseminated throughout the intelligence community. At the same time, the Agency is able to assess the analytical ability and potential of the students for permanent positions.
